THE DALLAS PETROLEUM CLUB
THE BEGINNINGS AND THE EARLY YEARS

Almost since Spring, 1934, Dallas Wildcat Committee members, a group of oil men, had been talking about forming a local petroleum club. There were a number of meetings, plenty of suggestions, but no action.

Dallas was emerging from its cocoon as an oil city. The great East Texas field was pretty well defined by now and gradually the major city on the Trinity became its headquarters. Yet - Big D had assumed no definite form as an oil capital. In Texas parlance it had the makin's. Something gluey was needed to fasten the flesh to the bones and get going.

So one day at the old B&B Cafe on Akard, three Wildcatters decided to do something about it. One was big Carl Young, director of standardization for American Petroleum Institute, and adept organizer. Another was Russell S. McFarland, head of Seaboard Oil Co., meticulous, exacting. A third was Harry Moss, local independent, with a penchant for getting things done. They invited Jack Pew, Sun Oil's personable, able executive to join deliberations. R. B. Whitehead, chief geologist for Atlantic Refining Co., Mustang Club mentor and a whirling dervish around whom whirlpools of activity were continually circling, was added to the team.

These men were in the lead to provide Dallas with a lodestone which would attract prospective or already successful oil men. An added incentive was the scheduled annual November meeting here of the American Petroleum Institute. Dallas, as host, would attract worldwide attention. The situation called for an organized greeting.

Whitehead, Wildcat chairman, called his group together on July 25 and plans were outlined for a petroleum club. On August 3 a list of possible members was submitted and on August 6 a location was discussed. The Wildcats sent invitations to eligible prospects on October 4. Sixty-seven paid initiation fees. On October 18 organization plans were perfected and the steering committee was authorized to sign an agreement with the Baker Hotel to construct club quarters in the grill adjacent to Peacock Terrace at a rental of $6000 annually.

The first board of directors for the new Petroleum Club consisted of D.A. Little, Jack Pew, Harry Bass, J.F. Lucey, Harry Morlang, C.A. Young, R.S. McFarland, R.H. Morrison, D. Harold Byrd, H.S. Moss, W.H. Francis and R.B. Whitehead. Directors named Little President, McFarland Vice President, Whitehead Vice President and Morlang Secretary-Treasurer. These officers remained two years.

By-laws were drawn by W.H. Francis. T.L. Foster and Woodall Rodgers prepared papers of incorporation and made application for a charter. The latter stated that: 'The purpose for which the Club was formed is: The support and maintenance of an educational undertaking for the improvement and development of the human mind, through reading, discussion, exchange of ideas, lectures, information, social contacts and all other means that will contribute to such educational improvement and development of the members of the Club.'

The nation's economy was full of holes as the new organization gathered momentum. A giant Depression, still snarling, was slowly retreating 10-cent oil, recently a fact, left shivering memories. Expenses ran into the red and new members had to be recruited.

The first annual party, marking the formal opening of the new Club, was held February 9, 1935, in the club rooms and Peacock Terrace. There was a buffet, no regular hour for service, no decorations except a miniature derrick on each table, a sort of 'ya'll come' affair. Each member and guest was charged $1.50 per plate and the club donated an extra dollar. The next year an oil boom was created along the east wall of Peacock Terrace with scenes painted by a local artist. From these beginnings the annual party grew and assumed stature.

Section 3. Gambling. Gambling, in all of its forms, is prohibited. The playing of cards and other games as a social diversion will be permitted under the supervision of the House Committee.

Section 4. Bulletin Board. A Club bulletin board shall be placed in a permanent place in the Club. Nothing shall be posted on the bulletin board except by officers of the Club, by the Board of Directors, or by the standing committees.

Sections 5. Amendments. These By-Laws, or any part thereof, may be amended, modified or repealed at any regular meeting of the membership without notice, or at any Special Meeting, notice thereof having been given to the membership as is provided in Article II, Section 5(b), hereof; provided however, that no provision of these By-Laws relating to the mortgaging of the Club's property or the borrowing of money, or the incurring of indebtedness may be amended except upon a vote of a majority of all members of record, at a regular or specially called meeting, as herein provided.

Section 6. Tipping. No tipping of employees by members or guests of members shall ever be permitted. Tipping as used in this paragraph means the giving of money or other gifts to or for the benefit of an employee of the Club as a direct or indirect reward for services rendered as an employee of the Club except gifts made pursuant to a plan approved by the Board of Directors such as gifts to a Christmas gift fund or other fund for employees approved by the Board of Directors.

Section 7. Gender. The use of the masculine gender in these By-Laws has been for convenience only and shall be construed to include the feminine gender.

Section 8. Indemnification of Directors or Officers. The Club shall indemnify any and all of its Directors or Officers, or any person who has served another entity as a Director, Officer, or similar functionary at the request of the Club to the full extent as permitted by Texas law. The Club shall have the power to make any other or further indemnification except an indemnification against obligations resulting from a proceeding (i) in which the person is found liable on the basis that personal benefit was improperly received by him, whether or not the benefit resulted from an action taken in the person's official capacity or (ii) in which the person is found liable to the Club. The Club shall have the power to purchase and maintain insurance on behalf of any and all of its Directors or Officers, or any person who has served another entity as a Director, Officer, or similar functionary at the request of the Club, against any liability asserted against him and incurred by him in any such capacity or arising out of his status as such, whether or not the Club would have the power to indemnify him against such liability under the Texas Non-Profit Corporation Act, as amended.
